

CURIOUS MUM

Sounds, Sparkles and Surprises!

THURSDAY 15 FEBRUARY 2018

The oddest sights and sounds can entrance and delight babies and toddlers. A light fitting, the rustling of a magazine, a shiny bracelet. Glisten is an amalgamation of all those mesmerising sounds, textures and twinkles that so often have little ones hypnotised.

The beauty of this 'show' is in its simplicity. For 20 minutes an actor reveals colour from within parcels of reflective materials, and then decorates the stage with them to create a glistening sensory landscape. An evocative soundscape soothes and entrals as the empty space is filled with colours, sounds, sparkles and surprises. Half Moon Theatre and Daniel Naddafy created the theatrical experience to be performed to small, intimate audiences, so even the most timid of toddlers will feel like the show is just for them! And after the performance, the new set remains for babes to explore the textures, sounds and sparkles with eyes, ears, hands and feet.

The fascination of reflective materials and lights is one that toddlers find in every day life, but Glisten brings together all of these wondrous encounters in one magical space. With a simple, enchanting premise, Glisten is a diamond in the rough as far as early years experiences go!
